Parking Puzzles Motorists

By the Editor

New students became acquainted in a hurry with the University parking problems Tuesday. A quick glance around the parking lot showed cars blocking exits, crossing white lines dividing parking stalls and sticking out in traffic lanes.

As a result, three officers handed out over 30 parking violation tickets. The administration has set up a list of definite regulations for motorists to follow on campus.

Anyone passing a driving test should be able to follow the rules. The rules state that drivers park between the white lines, keep out of traffic lanes and use the lower lot and fieldhouse parking areas when the upper lot is filled.

With the rules set up as such, they should be enforced with a firm hand. Police officers are assigned to the parking area to see that motorists follow regulations. Parking tickets are handed out with regularity to persons violating the 30-minute and handicapped persons' zones, but less enforcement is made in the jumbled back lot.

A little common sense by all motorists in parking their cars will help improve the situation. The proper authorities should take action on the matter and issue tickets to all violators. It is the only possible solution to a crowded parking situation.

Haury Attains Colonel Rank

Haury is commander of the Arnold Air Society, and is chairman for the Arnold Air Society National Conclave.

Basic promotions went to Alfred Allen, who was named Airman First Class. The following received Airman Second Class promotions: Howard W. Baker, Fritz J. Buglewicz, Walter E. Edmonds, Lavern L. Gell, Norman L. Misk, Joseph L. Puddu, Robert F. Slatery, William L. Steck, Charles G. Stilwell, and Robert Vondrasek.

Press Exhibits Prize Photographic Awards

Sixty prize-winning photographs, including the top winners in the Eighth Annual (1953) National High School Photographic Awards, are on exhibit today in room 209.

The exhibit includes the first, second and third prize winners in each of the four classes into which the contest was divided, the four Honor Award winners, and a selection of pictures receiving Special Awards.

The National High School Photographic Awards, sponsored by the National Scholastic Press Association and the Eastman-Kodak Company, offered $4,000 in cash prizes.

Sports and school activities, scenes and landscapes, appealing photos of babies and young children, interest-packed pictures of activities of adults, and many fine animal studies were included in the salon.

Athletic Committee Rules Claussen Out Of Doane, Peru Tilts

Don Claussen, OU basketball center-forward will not be permitted to play against Doane Feb. 12 or Peru Feb. 16, or in any post-season National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament games. The action was taken by President Milo Bail, on the recommendation of the Faculty Athletic Committee.

Dr. Bail's decision followed a ruling by Aubrey Givens of Doane, chairman of District 11 of the NAIA. Givens had stated that if Claussen plays against Doane or Peru, the OU team will forfeit its chances for a berth in the NAIA tournament.

When Givens' announcement was made, Claussen asked coach Virgil Velkin to hold him out of the two games with the Nebraska teams.

Claussen has competed in only six semesters of varsity athletics. However, according to Givens, Claussen should be ineligible because the six semesters were spread over four school years.

Dr. Bail explained that, according to the University athletic policy, which permits eight semesters of basketball competition, Claussen is eligible for the remaining games this season. "However," Dr. Bail said, "we are very glad to abide by the district NAIA ruling."

Scholarships Go To Chem Majors

Seniors Harry L. Golding and Robert G. Guide have received honor scholarships from the Institute of Paper Chemistry at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis.

The scholarships, worth $1,450 for each of four years of graduate study, were awarded after a representative of the Institute interviewed the two students. The scholarships also include promise of jobs for the two students after completion of the graduate study.

Both seniors will graduate from the University in June with a BA degree, major in chemistry.

Scholarships loan funds, sponsored by the OU Chapter of Alpha Kappa Delta, are available to sociology majors and graduates or any students who are recommended by the head of the Department of Sociology, Dean of Students, and counsellors, and are residents of Omaha or Council Bluffs.

The funds, handled by a scholarship committee appointed by the Executive Board of Alpha Kappa Delta, are not to exceed $100 per person and must be used in payment of tuition at the University.

Loans to juniors will be due, without interest, three years from the date of loan, and loans to seniors two years from the date of loan. After this date, unpaid loans draw 5% interest.

Registration Figures Show Probable Student Increase

Incomplete registration figures for the second semester indicate an increase in student enrollment. As of last Wednesday, enrollment totaled 1500 day school students and 1100 night school students. Students may continue to register for day school classes until Feb. 15. A late registration fee will be assessed up to that date.

The second semester enrollment of 1500 compares with a final figure of 1650 students in first semester classes.

Night school registration will continue next week. Students will be unable to enroll in night courses after the third class session.

Registrar Alice Smith reports that there are over 100 transfer students. Some of the schools students have transferred from are Nebraska University, Midland College, Duke University, Wisconsin State Teachers College and Creighton University. Others are Graceland College, Nebraska Wesleyan, Wayne State Teachers and Santa Anna Junior College.

Miss Smith also asked students not to come into the Registrar's office for first-semester grades. Grade cards will be mailed to students as soon as the office completes tabulations.

According to Miss Smith, the veteran enrollment is largely responsible for the probable enrollment registration increase.

Recent appointment of Dr. Roy Robbins as director of the Graduate school became effective this week. Dr. Robbins will also serve as professor of history.

Emery Announces New Night Course

Donald Emery, Dean of the College of Adult Education, has announced a new general course in Free Lance Writing to begin Wednesday, and run for 12 sessions. Registration can be made at any time before the course begins.

The instructor will be Robert G. Robinson, a successful free lance writer and publicity director of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce and his course will include ideas, types of articles, markets and special styles and fields for free lance writers.

The class will meet Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p. m.

Marching Angels Drill At Tomorrow's Game

Marching Angels are a drill group of 25 University co-eds from the Angels flight, auxiliary of the Arnold Air Society at the University. The girls are instructed by Cadet Col. Robert Darrah and Cadet 1st Lt. Frank Pazlar.

Bail Moderates Education Panel

Dr. Milo Bail will moderate the Omaha Centennial Education Forum of the Future, Wednesday night in the Municipal auditorium.

Speakers on the panel include Dr. Benjamin Fine, educational of the New York Times, and Dr. Alexander J. Stoddard, superintendent of public schools of Los Angeles, Calif.

Father Daniel A. Lord, S. J., Jesuit author and education, will also serve on the forum. The three participants will answer questions from the audience after the conclusion of the discussion.

'Gateway Movies'

"Snow Time" and "Long Way Home" will be shown in the student lounge Wednesday, 10:30 a.m. and 1 p. m. These are parts of a series of movies sponsored by the "Gateway."

Office Trio Promotes Friendly Atmosphere

To prove that business and pleasure mixed will equal success, one need only step into the Dean of Student Personnel office. That "casual" atmosphere results from the three friendly and chatty office girls. The office welcome mat is always out.

The voice behind the public address system belongs to Miss Juanita Sigler, secretary to Dean of Student Personnel Jay MacGregor. With her main job of "directing traffic" is trying to know all the students.

Leaning back in her chair, and eyeing the desk as though her feet would fit perfectly onto it, she gave the Sigler grin and wink and soberly said, "I'm the office idiot." Just about the merriest person around school, Miss Sigler lends the perfect casual air with her ready greeting.

Soprano Sigler
The warm quality in her voice doesn't end with talking (which is her favorite pastime). Still studying after twelve years, Miss Sigler might be called a quiet professional soprano. She directs a small church choir, often sings for different groups and has made several gift recordings.

A Van Sant Business School graduate, Mrs. Shirley Bryant is clerk stenographer. Name most anything and she's interested. Although she claims to need lots more info on her hobbies, she likes art, sewing, reading and music. Some day, with her background from night classes, she would like to teach art and English. Dress design and sewing are especially high on her special list.

Night Classes
Night classes at the University aim toward a dual certificate in elementary and secondary education. Mrs. Bryant, active in Alpha Kappa Alpha, national Negro sorority, has settled to the OU campus because, "it's a cozy place to work and the strangest things can break the routine."

Besides enjoying work with the students, Mrs. Ruth Watson is working to help her husband to graduate. He is a senior student

Feature Writer Gets Unrewarded Industry

THIS is determination. Anne McConney, senior English major, has been writing short stories and books for years, and has over 75 rejection slips to prove it. Anne claims to have had stories and books rejected from "the best magazines and publishing houses in the country." She has the most and best collection of rejection slips on this campus.

Anne has become callous to her disappointments now that she is editor of the "Grain of Sand," and has had a share in selecting material to be used. She now grants that choosing stories is a mammoth task.

Once-in-a-while, when the publishers get generous, or kind-hearted, they write a letter of rejection, or some sentiment such as "Sorry," across the rejection slip. "This," Anne says, "is an occasion for celebration; to think that they took their pen out of their pocket."

Anne has futilely submitted stories and books to over 23 magazines and 4 publishing houses, respectively. However, she is determined to keep trying.

All OU Coffee Drinkers Relax Annis Says No Price Change

By Eileen Brown

Nowadays, not even the guy from Milwaukee seems to know what to think of the coffee situation, that is.

From Memphis to Mobile and everywhere you wander people are talking about the high price of coffee.

Instant Sanka and Arthur Godfrey are rising ominously on the American horizon. It is even conceivable that Godfrey will soon be strumming his uke to the accompaniment of an outraged America's rendition of "Tea for Two."

Some sources such as "U. S. News and World Report" offer the view that drought, frost, insects, and more customers are the items which add up to the high cost of coffee.

While others, like cafeteria director Larry Annis, are inclined to think that it takes an awful lot of the afore-mentioned to constitute such a whopping coffee deficit.

To Omaha University's approximately eight hundred coffee-fiends, here are a few words of cheer: Annis predicts no rise in coffee rates this semester.

The "U. S. News and World Report" indicates, "Coffee drinkers in the United States can expect prices to stay high for at least several months to come." It then hastens to add, "If Brazil gets another short harvest, prices may be quite a bit higher."

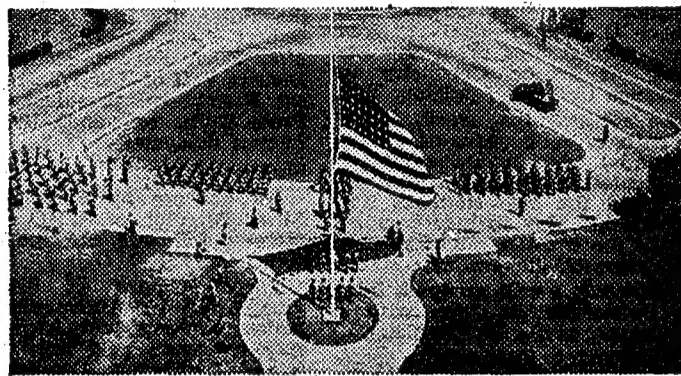

HMMMM. All together now, "They've got an awful lot of ..."

1. Pilot training begins at Lackland Air Force Base, where Aviation Cadets get 3 months of officer indoctrination.

2. It's a hard grind, but Cadets also find time to relax.

3. In primary training the Cadet flies his first planes, a Piper Cub, and this T-6. Later he will fly the more advanced T-28.

4. After flying conventional planes, he moves on to jets... going up with an instructor in this T-33 trainer.

5. He wins his wings as an Air Force officer, earning over $5,000 a year.

● For a fast, exciting and rewarding career, make your future in the sky as an Air Force pilot. As a college student, you are now able to join that small, select band of young men who race the wind in Air Force jets. You'll have the same opportunities to learn, advance and establish yourself in the growing new world of jet aviation.

Fly as one of the best

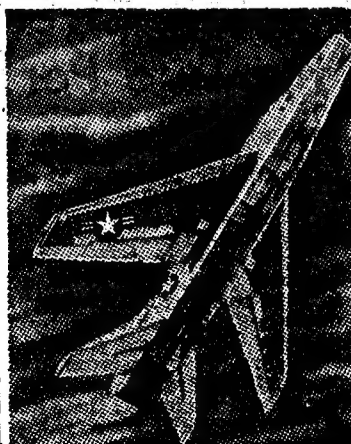

The pilot training you get in the Air Force is the best in the world—the kind that makes jet aces. You'll learn to fly the fastest, latest planes in the air—and fly them safely and well. Those who look to the skies will look to you for leadership and confidence.

Into a brilliant future

You'll graduate as an Air Force lieutenant, earning over $5,000 a year. Your Air Force wings will serve as credentials for important positions both in military and commercial aviation. Air Force wings mark you as the very best in the flying profession.

How to qualify for Pilot Training as an Aviation Cadet!

To qualify, you must be at least a high school graduate. However, you will be of more value to the Air Force if you stay in college, graduate, and then volunteer for training. In addition, you must be between the ages of 19 and 26½, and in top physical condition. If you think you are eligible, here's what you do: Take your high school diploma or certificate of graduation together with a copy of your birth certificate down to your nearest Air Force base or recruiting station. Fill out the application they give you. If you pass your physical and other tests, you will be scheduled for an Aviation Cadet Training Class.

6. Then winds up his training with the latest and fastest planes in the air.

7. He's tested those silver wings... And won the respect and admiration that go to every jet pilot in the United States Air Force! From now on he'll rule the skies in an Air Force jet.

Indians Meet Dangerous Emporia Cage Team Steadily Improves

By Don Digilio

Kansas State Teachers of Emporia will be the visitors tomorrow night in the OU Fieldhouse when the Indians try for their third win in four starts.

Emporia always presents a rough problem to the Omaha cage squad. Last year the two teams split. Coach Virgil Yelkin said that they have a fine ball club, and that they can use their height to great advantage.

Bloomer Poses Problems
Art Bloomer, a junior forward, is the hotshot of the Kansas team. He is 6 foot 3, and is a deadly shot as well as a capable rebounder. Lawrence Udaley and Ed Hosking, who are both over 6 feet tall, should prove to be plenty of trouble to the Indian five.

Joe Stein, another letterman, is playing his third year with the varsity at one of the guard positions. The Kansas team may try to build their offense around 6 foot 5 in. R. L. Colberly.

Simpson Next Foe

On Wednesday, the Omaha team meets Simpson College. Earlier this year Simpson beat OU 71 to 62. Fiery Dennis Pace, 5 foot 11 in. guard, led the victory by scoring 30 points.

Simpson always uses the fast break, and this type of play usually provides plenty of wild action. Yelkin stated that the Simpson team is one of the best hustling squads he has ever run across.

Cage Squad Improves

The Omaha team has been steadily improving. Bob Mackie is starting to pick up his scoring punch to the pace that he has maintained in his freshman and sophomore years. Fred Shinrock, who has always given his best in cage tilts, is becoming one of the best rebounders on the squad. Bob Moscrey's sharpshooting should keep the visitor's defense busy. And, of course, Don "Mope" Claussen will be giving his best in the games that he is eligible for. Claussen will be seriously missed by the OU team.

The rookies on the Indian team have been a pleasant surprise. John Morse, Bill Petrick, and Gary Whiteman have sparked the team several times.

Nelson Overlooked

One man on the Indian squad has been overlooked by many of the fans, and that is Lee Nelson. Lee is playing in his third year. He has not been showing much scoring punch, but he is probably one of the best defensive ball players on the team. His rebound work, and passing have helped the team many times.

School Spirit
It would be a good idea for the University to show plenty of school spirit by backing the Omaha team in the remaining games.

Theta Chi Cage Squad Hold Intramural Lead

Unbeaten Theta Chi trounced the Pawnees Wednesday, 41-25. This made the Theta Chi string six wins against no defeats. Don Maseman led the team with 18 points. This is the third year that "The Mase" has been one of the intramural scoring leaders.

Sig Ep's Win

A hotshot Sig Ep squad narrowly squeezed a victory over Pi Kappa Alpha, 28-27. The Sig Ep crew led by 12 points with less than two minutes to go when Pi Kappa came to life, tying the score as the buzzer sounded.

Bill Duffack was fouled and scored a free throw after the game was over to give Sig Ep the one point victory.

In the second game, the Sioux won by forfeit from the newly formed Phi Beta Chi Squad.

Indoor Track Members Begin Regular Workouts

The OU track squad is beginning organized workouts with less than a month remaining before the indoor season. Coach Ernie Gorr will welcome any candidates regardless of high school experience. Any one interested should either contact Gorr or go over to the Fieldhouse during workouts from 3 till 5 p. m.

The complete indoor track is scheduled to be chalked out late this week, or early next week. When this is completed, the team will hold races regularly right up to the first official meet.

Bearcats Break Indian Streak

After two consecutive wins on the home court over Washburn and Rockhurst, Omaha University's cagers lost a return engagement at Northwest Missouri State Tuesday night, 64-55.

Earlier in the season, the Indians lost at OU, 67-55.

Frigid first and last quarters were the downfall of the Red and Black along with a determining edge in the attempts and conversions of free throws.

The Bearcats from Maryville cashed in on 32 of 48 gift shots while the Omahans managed only 15 for 27. However, Omaha outscored Northwest State from the field, 20-16.

OU could only garner nine points in a cold initial period, but productive second and third quarters kept the Indians in the game until a meager seven point output in the last frame nullified all Omaha hopes.

Scoring was evenly divided with Fred Shinrock netting 11 points for the OU high. He was followed by Stan Schaezle with 10 markers and Bob Moscrey with nine.

Omaha U basketball fortunes took a decided run for the better with victories over Washburn in an overtime 72-65 and Rockhurst 90-76.

Sparked by the performance of freshman sensation Stan Schaezle, the Indians have shown vast improvement in the last two home games. Schaezle garnered 21 points in the Washburn fray on Jan. 23 as OU was extended into an overtime after leading throughout the game. Bob Mackie was second high with 16.

Against Rockhurst on Jan. 30, OU set a modern scoring record for the Fieldhouse with a 90-76 win. The Omahans wasted little time as they took a commanding lead early in the first quarter and were never headed. At halftime, the score was 48-28 with rookies playing most of the second period.

High man for the Indians was Don Claussen with 19 while Mackie was a close second with 16.

OUWI Plans Swedish Dance

Persons interested in dancing or instructing folk dances are asked to notify Miss Mary Lou Niebling in the quonset hut. The dances are a portion of a Mid-Summer Festival to be presented by the Swedish Pioneer Committee in observance of Omaha's Centennial. The group prefers persons between ages 16 and 20 for typical Swedish dances.

Women's basketball tournament begins Febr. 9. Before playing, each member must have the school doctor's permit and must attend one practice session. Umpires, time keepers and score keepers are needed for each game. Game schedule is:

Omaha Students Lose Golden Gloves Debut

Wayne Wagner and Subby Maddalana, University of Omaha students, lost their Golden Glove debuts.

Maddalana, fighting in the 126 pound class, showed plenty of gameness, but little experience, and was knocked out in the first round. Subby openly admits that he entered the gloves strictly on a challenge from a friend.

Wagner's match was close, but the OU senior lost on a close decision. Wayne, fighting in the 160-pound class, had only started Golden Gloves opener. Wagner boxing a few weeks before the appeared stronger, but his opponent was more experienced, although he seemed befuddled by the unique style Wayne possessed.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

I've tried so many cigarettes,
All brands from A to Z—
But nothing beats that better taste!
It's Lucky Strike for me!

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason... enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco... light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better... always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

If you're the kind of guy that hates
to see his money partin',
Here's a tip to save you dough:
Buy Luckies by the carton!
